ARTIST PROFILE

Ryan Dsouza is an independent Canadian singer-songwriter, vocalist and music producer based in White Rock, B.C. His original music spans diverse styles including reggae, island pop, pop-rock and soul, drawing inspiration from everyday life, stories, humour and collaboration.

Ryan also collaborates and co-writes with songwriters around the world. Alongside his own music, he is also co-founder of Artist Launcher, a music discovery platform focused on making connections between independent artists, curators and radio more accessible meaningful and effective.

ABOUT THE SONG

Do Be Do Be Do Be Doo is a playful, upbeat reggae-inspired song built around rhythm, repetition and an infectious sense of fun. It blends island-inspired grooves and memorable melodies in an easygoing celebration of music.
